COURSE DESCRIPTION:

What does it mean to create social change nonviolently? We will look at the power of ordinary people to effect change through social movements, community organizing, public activism, advocacy / lobby campaigns, and policy formation. The course will be framed by the theory and practice of social movements, mass mobilization and community organizing. These course frameworks will be interrogated within the social change systems of violence and nonviolence. From this backdrop, we will take a careful and critical look at nonviolent strategic action, grapple with the inherent tensions between principled and functional nonviolence, and explore the possibilities of creating nonviolent forms of power, identifying tactics, and designing plans for social transformation. The final section of the course will delve into advocacy, lobbying and methods for influencing public policy. Throughout the course, participants will have a choice to engage in a variety of assignments including reading reflections, presentations on nonviolence and religion, letter writing, applying nonviolent frameworks to real-life case scenarios or policy change, and facilitating nonviolence training. A weekend trip to Richmond, VA or Washington DC to participate in the advocacy and lobbying efforts with government representatives will be built into the learning experience.

COURSE GOALS AND OBJECTIVES:

- Explore the theory, practice, and history of social change movements in varied contexts
- Understand the philosophy and practice of nonviolent action, activism and advocacy
- Create strategies for increasing power through community organizing and mobilization
- Increase understanding of the processes of legislative lobby change & public policy
REQUIRED TEXTS AND OTHER RESOURCES:

Books:

Manuals:

Other course requirements:

- A course fee of $50 will be applied to your student account for the Lobby Fieldtrip that we will take as a class to Richmond, VA (State Capital) OR Washington DC.

REQUIRED ASSIGNMENTS:

Course Assignments - (3 Credit Hours)

You have a choice of assignments in this class. Choose the assignments you would like to complete for a total of 100 points. (Remember: the rule of thumb is that you will be expected to write a total of 25 pages for a 3 credit hour course).

PAX 588 – Nonviolent Mobilization for Social Change
Spring 2020
REQUIRED ASSIGNMENTS:

1. Reading Reflection Papers - (20 points each for a total of 40 points)

   Write two, 2-page (single-spaced) response papers to the readings. Please do not only summarize the readings. I want you to interact and have a ‘conversation’ with the author(s) that includes your own thoughts, reactions and critiques of the readings.

2. Final Project - (Choose ONE of the 3 options listed below and depending on what other assignments you chose this project can be for 40, 50, or 60 points total – the points chosen will determine the page length of the assignment). See guidance notes.

   - Advocacy Campaign Design Paper - Write a double-spaced research paper on a situation where nonviolent advocacy strategies should be tried or were applied unsuccessfully. This paper will have 3 major sections: Scenario description, context analysis, and a proposed NV intervention plan OR critique of attempted intervention plan.

   - Case Study for the Global Nonviolence Action Database – develop a case study (research and write) for publication on the web – (a case study framework will be provided) - http://nvdatabase.swarthmore.edu/content/about-database

   - Training Workshop Design and Facilitation – You (and possibly a partner) will be responsible to design and facilitate a three-hour workshop session (one full class session at the end of the semester). The basis of your training will be from any of the required manuals: A New Weave of Power, People & Politics, CANVAS Curriculum: A Guide to Effective Nonviolent Struggle, OR Teaching Model: Nonviolent Transformation of Conflict. You will be graded on the actual facilitation content (what new training material and lesson plan you develop) as well as the facilitation process (how you actually execute the facilitated training session) by both the instructor and peer reviews.

   - Local Facilitation Practice - NV strategic actions and community political organizing options (To be discussed further in class)

OPTIONAL ASSIGNMENTS: (You can choose 1 or 2, but not 3 optional assignments)

   - Letter Project

     Write a 2-page (single-spaced) letter to someone who you would like to convince of the power of nonviolent philosophy, theology and /or strategies. You will choose someone you know personally, professionally or a public figure that endorses violence as a means of social change (political, educational, religious, business, military, judicial or civic leader, etc.) to engage with about nonviolence. This letter will be written in the form of a well-developed argument / debate format - identify the problem(s) with the use of violence (premise of argument), offer statistical data and logical arguments that back up that premise, and conclude with a proposed nonviolent alternative(s) and statistical and motivational arguments to support your proposed solution(s). \(10\) points

- Religious Teachings and Nonviolence Group Presentations
  Research the religious teachings on violence and nonviolence from the perspective of a particular religion or group of religious followers. Individually prepare a presentation for one of the five morning reflections in class. You will be evaluated by both the instructor and your peers on the professional level of your presentation, a presentation outline prepared before your presentation and any visuals or hard-copy hand-outs you provide. Sign up within the first 2 weeks of class. \(10\) points

- Observation of a Nonviolent Strategic Action or community organizing event
  Attend a local NV strategic action, community organizing or protest event (There will be regular announcements of local events in class). You will be asked to write a 2-page (single-spaced) paper on your overall observations and experiences of the event, how well was it organized, who was attending, did it have an effective framing message, what kind of leadership was given to the event, how successful did you feel the event was? \(10\) points

These are brief descriptions of required graded assignments for the course. More details for each assignment can be found on the “Guidance Notes” that will be provided on Moodle.

(2 Credit Hours)

You have a choice of assignments in this class. Choose the assignments you would like to complete for a total of 70 points:

- One Reading Response/Reflection Paper (2 pages – single-spaced) = \(20\) points
- Final Project: Choice of ONE of the 3 options = \(50\) points

OR

- One Reading Response/Reflection Paper (2 pages – single-spaced) = \(20\) points
- Final Project: Choice of ONE of the 3 options = \(40\) points
- Choose one of the Optional Assignments = \(10\) points

(Non-Credit)

If you are taking this course for professional skills development, and not for academic credit, you will be expected to attend class and fully engage in the readings, class discussion, and in-class exercises (e.g. case studies, role-plays & simulations). No written assignments are required. However, you are welcome to supplement your learning experience by engaging in any assignments, presenting on NV & Religions, and/or attending the advocacy / lobby training options. This is up to your discretion.

SUPPLEMENTAL INFORMATION FOR COURSE SYLLABI:

Writing Guidelines:

Writing will be a factor in evaluation: EMU has adopted a set of writing guidelines for graduate programs that include six sets of criteria: content, structure, rhetoric & style, information literacy, source integrity, and conventions (see page 3). It is expected that graduates will be able to write at least a “good” level with 60% writing at an “excellent” level. For the course papers, please follow the APA style described in CJP’s GUIDELINES for GRADUATE PAPERS (see CJP Student Resources Moodle page or request a copy from the Academic Program Coordinator), unless directed otherwise by the instructor.
Academic Integrity Policy (AIP):
EMU faculty and staff care about the integrity of their own work and the work of their students. They create assignments that promote interpretative thinking and work intentionally with students during the learning process. Honesty, trust, fairness, respect, and responsibility are characteristics of a community that is active in loving mercy and doing justice. EMU defines plagiarism as occurring when a person presents as one’s own someone else’s language, ideas, or other original (not common-knowledge) material without acknowledging its source (Adapted from the Council of Writing Program Administrators). This course will apply EMU’s AIP to any events of academic dishonesty. If you have doubts about what is appropriate, Indiana University’s Plagiarism Tutorials and Tests may be a useful resource.

Turnitin:
Students are accountable for the integrity of the work they submit. Thus, you should be familiar with EMU’s Academic Integrity Policy (see above) in order to meet the academic expectations concerning appropriate documentation of sources. In addition, EMU is using Turnitin, a learning tool and plagiarism prevention system. For CJP classes, you may be asked to submit your papers to Turnitin from Moodle.

Moodle:
Moodle is the online learning platform that EMU has chosen to provide to faculty, administrators and students. Students will have access to course information within Moodle for any class they are registered for in a given term. The amount of time a student has access to information before and after the class is somewhat dependent on the access given to students by the individual faculty member. However, please note that courses are not in Moodle permanently – after two years the class will no longer be accessible. Please be sure to download resources from Moodle that you wish to have ongoing access to.

Technology Requirements and Communication (if joining a class by zoom):
Communication will largely be accomplished via the Moodle platform utilized by EMU and your EMU email. Check both frequently during the semester. In addition, during class synchronous sessions, it will be expected that you will use a noise-reducing headset to minimize background noise and disruption. Remember to keep your headsets UNMUTED during the sessions and avoid moving, brushing, touching or fumbling with them as it creates unwanted noise in the class space.

Graduate & Professional Studies Writing Center:
Please utilize the writing program! They offer free individual tutoring from a graduate student tutor. Please visit the website to schedule an appointment.

Institutional Review Board (IRB):
All research conducted by or on EMU faculty, staff or students must be reviewed by the Institutional Review Board to assure participant safety.

Grading Scale & Feedback:
In most courses grades will be based on an accumulation of numerical points that will be converted to a letter grade at the end of the course (several CJP courses are graded pass/fail). Assignments will receive a score expressed as a fraction, with the points received over the total points possible (e.g. 18/20). The following is the basic scale used for evaluation. Points may be subtracted for missed deadlines.

- 95-100 = A outstanding
- 90-94 = A- excellent
- 85-89 = B+ very good
- 80-84 = B good
- 76-79 = B- satisfactory
- 73-75 = C+ passing
- 70-72 = C unsatisfactory
- Below 70 = F failing
Graduate students are expected to earn A’s & B’s. A GPA of 3.0 for MA students and 2.75 for GC students is the minimum requirement for graduation.

Regarding feedback on papers/projects: Students can expect to receive papers/assignments back in a class with faculty feedback before the next paper/assignment is due. This commitment from faculty assumes that the student has turned the paper in on the agreed upon due date.

Library
The Hartzler Library offers research support (via e-mail, chat, phone, or SSC campus) and the library home page offers subject guides to help start your research.

Office of Academic Access:
If you have a physical, psychological, medical or learning disability that may impact your work in this course, it is your responsibility to contact the Office of Academic Access in the Academic Success Center on the third floor of the Hartzler Library. They will work with you to establish eligibility and to coordinate reasonable accommodations. All information and documentation is treated confidentially.

Class Attendance:
Students are expected to attend all class meetings. If unusual or emergency circumstances prevent class attendance, the student should notify the professor in advance if possible. Multiple absences from class will result in lower grades. The student is responsible for the material presented in classes missed (from EMU Graduate Catalog). Students should be aware of the importance of regular class attendance, particularly in the case of CJP classes that only meet once a week or over several weekends. Being absent for more than one class leads to a student missing a large portion of the class content. In addition to consistent class attendance, students should make every effort to arrive to class on time out of respect for the learning process, fellow students and faculty.

Course Extensions and Outstanding Grades:
For fall and spring semesters, all coursework is due by the end of the semester. If a student will not be able to complete a course on time, the student must submit a request one week before the end of the semester for an extension (up to 6 months), by emailing the instructor, academic advisor and the Academic Program Coordinator. If the request is granted the student will receive an “I (incomplete) for the course which will later be replaced by a final grade when the work has been turned in on the agreed upon date. If the request for an extension is denied, the student will receive a grade for the work that has been completed up until the time the course was expected to have been completed. If no work has been submitted, the final grade will be an F (or W under unusual circumstances and with permission of the Program Director). Extensions will be given only for legitimate and unusual situations. Extensions are contracted by the student with the program for up to a maximum of 6 months after the deadline for the course work. PLEASE NOTE: Grades for coursework submitted late may be reduced at the instructor’s discretion and in line with their course policy on turning in coursework after the due date. If the extension deadline is not met, the instructor will submit the final grade based on what has been received to date.

Inclusive, Community-Creating Language Policy:
Eastern Mennonite University expects all its faculty, staff, and students to adopt inclusive written and spoken language that welcomes everyone regardless of race or ethnicity, gender, disabilities, age, and sexual orientation. We will use respectful and welcoming language in all our official departmental documents and correspondence, including those put forth by way of Internet communication, and throughout all academic coursework, inclusive of classroom presentations and conversations, course syllabi, and both written and oral student assessment materials (see CJP Student Resources moodle page or request a complete copy along with best practices from the Academic Program Coordinator).

Title IX:
The following policy applies to any incidents that occur (on or off campus) while you are a student registered at EMU. It does not apply if you are talking about incidents that happened prior your enrollment at EMU. It is important for you to know that all faculty and staff members are required to report known or alleged incidents of sexual violence (including sexual assault, domestic/relationship violence, stalking). That means that faculty and staff members cannot keep information about sexual violence confidential if you share that information with them. For example, if you inform a faculty or staff member of an issue of sexual harassment, sexual assault, or discrimination he/she will keep the information as private as he/she can, but is required to bring it to the attention of the institution’s Title IX Coordinator. You can also report incidents or complaints through the online portal. You may report, confidentially, incidents of sexual violence if you speak to Counseling Services counselors, Campus Ministries’ pastors, or Health Services personnel providing clinical care. These individuals, as well as the Title IX Coordinator, can provide you with information on both internal & external support resources. Please refer to the Student Handbook for additional policies, information, and resources available to you.

Academic Program Policies:

Criteria for Evaluating Arts-Based Peacebuilding Projects

Background notes:

• Arts approaches can be used in several different stages of a project:
  1. To gain or create knowledge. (For example, research “subjects” or participants might be engaged in an arts-based project as a way of soliciting information or encouraging insight.)
  2. To add complexity or nuance to created knowledge. (For example, an arts practice may serve as one method in a multi-method research project, creating an integrated, reflective methodology for the project. Alternatively, an arts practice could be used to analyze and/or interpret data collected by conventional methods.)
  3. To test knowledge. (For example, researchers might verify their interpretation of findings from a more traditional research process by creating a play or exhibit and testing it for resonance with their subjects.)
  4. To share findings. (For example, a play or exhibit might be created to (re)-present data collected or analyzed via conventional methods in order to impart the particular kinds of meaning the researcher considers important, and as a way to reach and engage a broader audience.)
  5. As a form of intervention. (For example, a project might be designed to raise awareness of an issue or conflict, to promote dialogue on a contested issue, or to advocate for a cause.)

• Arts-based products often do not specify methodologies used. Thus it may be important for a project to be accompanied by a short paper discussing analysis, theory of change, audience, goals, and methods used.

• Patricia Leavy, in “Method Meets Art: Arts-based Research Practice” (New York: Guilford Press), 2009, argues that “[t]raditional conceptions of validity and reliability, which developed out of positivism, are inappropriate for evaluating artistic inquiry.” (p. 15). She suggests that authenticity, trustworthiness, and validity can be assessed through attention to such elements as aesthetics, resonance, and vigor.

• For a discussion of standards, see “Method Meets Art” (Leavy, 2009: 15ff and Chapter 8).
